

International Congress

June 19-20, 2024
Congress Center Rosengarten Mannheim

The background features a large, abstract graphic composed of overlapping geometric shapes and patterns. A prominent blue diagonal band runs from the top left towards the bottom right. Below this, there are sections with a blue grid pattern, a dark blue/black textured area, and a red car body part. A green rectangular block is also visible at the bottom right.

About the Congress

For more than 40 years, the international VDI Plastics in Automotive Engineering congress has been throwing light on the traditional topics areas of interior and exterior design, simulation, materials/technologies, engine/technology and, of course, the key issue of lightweight design. The accompanying exhibition and auto show with the latest cars and commercial vehicles allow attendees to discuss technical questions and details on the object.

Would you like to address the top-class participants of the VDI Congress and increase your level of awareness among the audience? Be part of the event and meet over 1,000 industry decision makers like managers and engineers from research and development, and scientific staff from universities and research institutes.

Benefit from a sponsoring package specially tailored to your needs. Set yourself apart from your competitors and increase your image in the target group.

Your advantages at a glance:

- Differentiation from your competitors
- Increase your corporate image and awareness
- Sustainable positioning of your company as a competent and long-term partner
- Higher contact quality than with classic advertising
- Many types of presentation possible in the conference and exhibition area
